

Dr. Hanchun Yang works as professor at College of Veterinary Medicine of China Agricultural University, and Secretary-General and Vice-President of the Chinese Association of Animal Science and Veterinary Medicine (CAAV). He is a Board Member of International Pig Veterinary Society (IPVS). His research activities focus on etiology & molecular epidemiology, immunity & pathogenesis, diagnostic techniques & vaccines of PRRS, ASF and other emerging and re-emerging diseases. His veterinary service activities include clinical & laboratory diagnosis, prevention & control, and elimination for swine viral Diseases.